

A vibrant, low-angle shot of a group of young people celebrating. In the center, a woman with blonde hair and round sunglasses looks up with an open-mouthed expression. To her left, a man in a black hat and a woman with dark hair are also looking up. To the right, another person is partially visible, wearing sunglasses. The scene is filled with a massive amount of multi-colored confetti (red, blue, green, yellow, white) that is suspended in the air, creating a sense of motion and festivity. A very bright, circular light flare, resembling a sun or a firework, dominates the right side of the frame, casting a warm, golden glow over the entire scene. The background is a clear, bright blue sky.
